

Health and Safety

Only premium brand professional products that are water based are used, all face paints are FDA compliant. We use safe, cosmetic grade glitter designed specifically for face and body painting.

- Persons that won't be painted are to include: People who do not want to be painted or show any distress at the thought of being painted, anyone with an apparent skin complaint e.g. Eczema, Chicken Pox, Conjunctivitis, and anyone who appears to be unwell. This is not an exhaustive list and if you are unsure please talk to me so we can discuss it further. Creations Face and Body Art takes no responsibility for losses or reactions at anytime.
- Without prejudice I reserve the right not to paint anyone I feel should not be painted.
- Please have a clean area for me to set up in so I can make sure it is a safe area.
- Water and brushes are cleaned regularly and I use 1 sponge per child.
- A parent or guardian must stay with the child at all times. I do not and will not take responsibility for any loss or accidents at anytime.
- Some people may react to our products, I follow a strict hygiene practice and do not take responsibility at anytime for reactions caused.
- The paints can cause minor staining to property and again I take no responsibility, in the event of staining to the skin use a little soap and water.
- Please do not touch any of our products at anytime and keep children away from sticking fingers in paint pots. (This is to ensure that our Health and Hygiene Standards are kept to a Maximum).
- I reserve the right NOT to paint Offensive Symbols or Subjects.
- Removing of face paints can be done at home with clean water. (If slight staining occurs then a little soap may help) if soap does not help the natural oils in the body should take it away within 24- 48 hours. Baby wipes are another great option for removing the paint.